

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING

Students gain a diverse set of experiences, meet new people of various backgrounds, languages, and cultures, as well as develop their skillset for empathy, compassion, and the ability to communicate across cultures.

LEARN A NEW WAY OF LIFE

Students are immersed in another culture while abroad. Exposure to local history, politics, and language of a region will build your student's cross-cultural competencies. Immersion in another culture exposes students to local history, politics, and language of the region.

CAREER PROSPECTS

Students who complete an international study, internship, or service-learning program abroad have higher graduation rates and access to better employment opportunities.

LESSONS LEARNED

Studying abroad provides students the opportunity to hone their abilities to be flexible, adaptable, and resilient, as well as learn how to work independently while overcoming linguistic, and cultural barriers.
