

University of the Incarnate Word® Bachelor of Arts in Philosophy

College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Bachelor of Arts (B.A.) in Philosophy at the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences at the University of the Incarnate Word shapes analytical and strategic thinkers with a deep understanding of logic, argument and ethics—all valuable skills for a variety of careers and future aspirations.

The B.A. in Philosophy degree at UIW integrates the major branches of philosophy, including Metaphysics, Epistemology, Ethics and Logic, with an examination of philosophy in several different historical eras, including Ancient, Medieval, Modern and Contemporary. UIW students also study World Philosophy, exploring different global traditions of thought.

Because philosophy is at the heart of the liberal arts experience, a B.A. in Philosophy allows students to synthesize insights from a wide variety of fields and sharpen their critical and creative skills in the process. The primary goal is not merely to promote the mastery of philosophical content, but to help cultivate the philosophical spirit by nourishing UIW students' responsiveness to the wonder of being, their commitment to justice and their overall capacity to explore philosophical issues with creativity and critical insight. UIW's smaller class sizes help foster group discussions as students seek to learn from each other and their diverse backgrounds in search of the common good.

QUICK FACTS

- Because training in philosophy features rigorous combinations of critical and creative reasoning, graduates of the program typically perform at the highest levels on entrance exams for graduate and professional studies such as the GRE, GMAT, LSAT, MCAT, and others.
- Philosophy students regularly compete in the prestigious Intercollegiate Ethics Bowl at both regional and national levels.
