

Bachelor of Arts in Political Science

American Politics

College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The Bachelor of Arts in Political Science at the College of Humanities, Arts and Social Sciences at the University of the Incarnate Word expands awareness and understanding of political life and issues of public concern and stimulates scholarship and continuing interest in government, government service and international affairs. Students also may explore themes of war and peace and the effects of globalization, the role of international law and organizations, and America's leadership in the world.

American Politics Track

The American Politics track emphasizes a deep understanding of United States politics and government. Through the required 18 hours of courses, students explore the U.S. legal system, constitutional law and the branches of government, and public and foreign policy. Courses on environmental law, human rights, political psychology and behavior, and gender and politics are also offered and provide insight into the intersection of political science and justice.

Career Opportunities

- Political Science majors develop analytical skills, combining organized knowledge with practical experience that introduces and prepares students for career opportunities in the public as well as nongovernmental sectors. Internships are a vital part of the program. Many occupations require a college-educated individual who can write and speak well, solve problems, learn new information quickly, and work well with others on a team.
- Political Science students prepare for professional training in public policy, public administration, law and graduate education in the policy sciences, as well as employment in government and nongovernmental public sector organizations, including nonprofit organizations or businesses relating to international affairs.
- Students have numerous opportunities to participate in organizations related to Political Science: Pi Sigma Alpha, the Political Science Honor Society; moot court team; Amnesty International; and Phi Alpha Delta, the Pre-Law Society.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The requirements for admission to the B.A. in Political Science program are the same as the requirements for admission to the University of the Incarnate Word.
