

Mini-Biography

Doshie Piper, PhD is an Assistant Professor of Criminal Justice at the University of the Incarnate Word. Dr. Piper research have primarily focused on gender and delinquency; specifically, gender and violence, and theoretical applications of gendered violence. Her research agenda has recently shifted to reentry and community corrections. This shift was influenced by her service commitment to the, the Bexar County Re-Entry Council, the Bexar County Faith Based Re-Entry Committee, San Antonio Criminal Justice Action Coalition and the Nehemiah Community Reentry Project. Dr. Piper has worked with the Nehemiah Community Re-Entry Project a faith based collaboration of networks to measure the effectiveness of faith based reentry providers as a recovery support services. Her commitment the teacher-scholar model has allowed her to build service learning partnerships and internships with other academic departments, disciplines, and community agencies.