Farewell

by Dr. Rebecca Attridge, PharmD, MSc BCPS,
Outgoing Residency Director

Welcome to the first FSOP Residency Alumni Newsletter! We are excited to keep in touch with you and hear of all the great things you are doing!

The FSOP Pharmacotherapy Residency Program began in its current two-year form in 2012 under the direction of Cheryl Horlen. Jason and I were lucky to be her residency advisory committee at that time. In 2014, Cheryl became our department chair, and I have been fortunate to be the residency program director ever since. I have loved being director of this program because of the interactions with the residents on projects, presentations, and rotations, and watching each of our residents grow and blossom into amazing, caring clinicians and professionals. My favorite thing is to hear back from people you work with about how fantastic you are (this happens all the time!).

I am stepping down as the residency program director in May of 2021 and leaving UIW. We are beginning a new adventure and moving closer to family.

It's hard to leave a place as wonderful at UIW, and I'd like to express my sincerest thanks to all of the residents who have trained in our program and to the members of the Residency Advisory Committee who make it all possible. It has truly been my privilege work with and learn from you. Finally, thank you also to Dr. Maize for his continued support and dedication to this program, which allows us to continue to do this work.

I am excited to see how the program continues to grow and develop under the leadership of Amanda Kitten and the Residency Advisory Committee. I know that there are great things to come! We are blessed to have outstanding faculty and preceptors who show their commitment and love for the program with their time and energy, and we continue to improve and evolve the program based on resident and preceptor feedback to make it the best it can be.

I am so proud of our residents, past and current, our preceptors, and our program. Thank you for the opportunity to be a part of this program, your training, and your lives! -Becca

Welcome!

by Dr. Amanda Kitten, PharmD, MSc, Incoming Residency Director

Hello to all our current and former residents! I am Amanda Kitten, the new residency program director of the UIW Pharmacotherapy Residency Program. I am incredibly excited to begin this journey with the RAC and our residents.

When I started at UIW in June 2019, I was already familiar with the UIW residency program. During my own residency at UT Health San Antonio, I had the pleasure of interacting with and forming friendships with UIW residents; I watched them grow into brilliant practitioners who are now making their mark in the world of academia and clinical pharmacy. I was also lucky enough to have a couple of UIW RAC members serve as preceptors during my residency, so I was aware of how amazing the UIW program was and wanted to get involved as soon as I could! My favorite part of this program is, by far, the people. The current residents go above and beyond to serve their patients, the school, and the profession. And the members of the RAC are not only a credit to the profession of pharmacy but have also become some of my closest friends. I feel indescribably lucky to be part of it.

When I'm not running around UIW and my practice site, I like to play with my two dogs, Zeke and Molly (they are complete hoodlums) and binge watch Netflix with my soon-to-be husband, Isaac. (Our wedding is coming up on June 18!)

I am excited for the future of our program, especially now that the end of the pandemic is (hopefully) on the horizon. I'm looking forward to helping our current and future residents become excellent practitioners and continuing to support all the members of this UIW residency family. -Amanda

Alumni Residents News and More

Dr. Melissa De Leon, PharmD (2010-2011)

Melissa passed away peacefully on April 1, 2020, surrounded by family. She was a member of the inaugural class of 2010 and the first graduate of the FSOP Residency program. She practiced at HEB Pharmacy for 10 years. A Scholarship fund has been established in her name at the FSOP, in which, a deserving P3 student that represents Melissa's spirit will receive a $500 scholarship.

Alyssa Hinojosa, a member of the Class of 2022, received the inaugural scholarship in Melissa's name at the Class of 2022 Rites of Passage Ceremony this past April. Melissa's son, Michael De Leon presented the award at the ceremony.

Dr. Nicole Farrell, PharmD (2010 -2012)

Nicole says life is hectic right now. She still loves amb care and has bought and been moving into a new home. She is an Ambulatory Care Clinical Pharmacy Specialist at University Family Health Center North.

Dr. Merlyn Joseph, PharmD (2012-2014)

Merlyn is a Clinical Assistant Professor at the Texas A&M University Irma Lerma Rangel College of Pharmacy. She is proud of her student-led projects which led to strong manuscripts. Below are their citations:

1. Ho T*, Jimenez A*, Sanchez I*, Seeger C, Joseph M#. Sleep-related eating disorder associated with zolpidem: cases compiled from a literature review. Sleep Medicine: X. 2020;2. <https://doi.org/10.1016/j.sleepx.2020.100019>

Dr. Tina Lee Beck, PharmD (2012-2014)

Tina Beck (Lee) stayed on as an Assistant Professor at UIW FSOP. She got married in 2016 and has two kids (James (almost 4) and Josie (almost 2)). She was promoted to Associate Professor with tenure in 2020. Her practice site continues to be Inpatient Family Medicine at University Hospital. She joined the Residency Advisory Committee in 2019.

Dr. Braden Adamson, PharmD (2013-2015)

I am currently working at Roseman University College of Pharmacy in South Jordan, Utah. I was recently promoted to Associate Professor this year. I am Block Coordinator for the Infectious Disease and Cardiology blocks. I also teach in Neurology and coordinate the BLS certification. I changed to a new practice site in May 2020 to an Emergency Room in a smaller community hospital. I was voted Teacher of the Year in 2018 and 2020.

This spring/summer I have been able to volunteer one day a week at a COVID vaccination clinic which was busy but a lot of fun. I definitely got a lot better with my IM shot technique.

Anika and I have 5 children, James (9), Russell (7), Nadine (5), Peter (4), and Lucy (2). We enjoy going on camping trips and going to visit friends and family. This year we are looking forward to a summer trip up to Yellowstone National Park and a 3-day camping trip to Mirror Lake in Utah.

Dr. Hansita Patel, PharmD (2013-2015)

Hansita continued to work at Feik School of Pharmacy as faculty and practices at UT Health Primary Care Clinics as an ambulatory care pharmacist. Upon completing residency, Hansita became a proud dog mom to her fur child, Lady.

Hansita enjoys traveling and yoga. She has led two study abroad trips to both Australia and Spain.

Just prior to the pandemic, she also had a lovely vacation with her parents in India where she got to see the Taj Mahal, visit palaces, ride on elephants, and meditate in the foothills of the Himalayas in Rishikesh (the yoga capital of the world). She is a dedicated yogi and completed a yoga teacher training in Costa Rica in 2018. After coming back from Costa Rica, she was inspired to start a mindfulness elective for students that she still loves teaching each year.

This past year was a challenging but exciting year for Hansita. She could not travel as much as she usually likes to, but she bought her first new house in May! She also received tenure and was promoted to associate professor this past spring.

Dr. Alireza Ravari, PharmD (2014-2016)

Greetings from California! As I reflect on my life, my 2 years of residency training is one of the most memorable time of my life. It truly developed my professional identity and helped me choose the right career path for me. I am currently working as a faculty member at Loma Linda University School of Pharmacy. I have been primarily using team-based learning in all my courses, thanks to Dr. Cota's influence. I continue to stay up-to-date and use evidence-based medicine in my clinical service, thanks to Drs. Lusk, Attridge, Cota, Cauthon, Witte, Urteaga, Brady, Bellanger, and Attridge (I am sad to know that many of these great mentors are no longer at UIW). I made a lot of mistakes (and I still do), which allowed me to grow and learn from great mentors. For that, I will forever be grateful. I became the Director of Advanced Pharmacy Practice Experiences in March of 2020 as COVID-19 pandemic was touching the United States and shortly thereafter rotations were being cancelled. I wasn't discouraged and was cautiously optimistic! Not only did the class of 2020 graduate successfully (at Loma Linda and throughout the country) during the pandemic, so did the class of 2021! I am now more than ever proud to be a pharmacist and proud to have a very small role in training future pharmacists. And that wouldn't have been possible without my time at UIW. So, I raise my glass to all of you and hope to see you soon!

Dr. Ashley Zurek, PharmD (2014-2016)

Ashley has been working part-time at Stonegate Pharmacy in San Antonio, Texas. She is currently on maternity leave. Pictured below is Zach, Zoe, and Avery.

Dr. Emily Brysch, PharmD (2015-2017)

Emily Brysch completed her pharmacotherapy residency with the Feik School of Pharmacy in 2017 and then started working as a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist with the South Texas Veterans Healthcare System as an ambulatory care pharmacist. She feels extremely lucky to be working with her “precious” patients that can be incredibly sweet as well as incredibly inappropriate - making no two days the same.

She also received her Board Certified Pharmacotherapy Specialty in 2018.

Her family is growing! Since completing residency, she has added to her family and has two sons, Desmond and Daxton. She gave birth to her first daughter, Elise Rose, on June 26! Prayers are encouraged for her and her husband, Joey's, sanity.

In her spare time (which is never), she enjoys baking, spending time with family, walking/hiking, traveling, and napping. In the works of buying land (to have more animals besides the current chickens) and building a home large enough to fit her children and beloved cat, Ernie.

Dr. Shelley Glaess, PharmD (2015-2017)

Shelley completed residency in 2017. Currently, she works at UHealth Memorial Hospital in Colorado Springs, CO in specialty medicine units (Renal Medicine, Neuroscience, Progressive Care) and the ICU (primarily MICU/Pulmonary). She is a primary preceptor for the PGY1 Internal Medicine rotation and offers an Internal Medicine II elective. She was awarded preceptor of the year for the PGY1 residency by the 2020-2021 class (first/best award of her life!). She is also the primary research mentor for the PGY2 Critical Care resident project. In her spare time, she is an avid gardener - she brought her cacti and succulents with her from Texas and has moved on to tulips, peonies and a vegetable patch. Her two cats are happy in their new backyard where they can interact with the koi fish (abandoned by the previous owners, she has become a koi enthusiast by accident). She and her husband enjoy hiking and biking in the mountains on the weekends.

Dr. Rebekah Benitez, PharmD (2016 -2018)

Rebekah is currently employed at UIW as an Assistant Professor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice. Rebekah is the newly named Coordinator of the Applied Pharmacy Care Lab six-course series. She continues to be creative and currently has a Harry Potter House Cup theme in the first course of the series. She is also a clinical pharmacy specialist at the Brooke Army Medical Center in San Antonio. She practices in the area of internal medicine and precepts fourth-year pharmacy students. Rebekah recently chaired the FSOP's Strategic Plan Committee, tasked to lead the charge to advance FSOP's strategic priorities.

Dr. Jenna Snoga, PharmD (2016 -2018)

Jenna is currently employed at UIW FSOP. She has a practice site at Brooke Army Medical Center in their Internal Medicine unit. Her research interests include DOACs, SGLT2 inhibitors, Heart failure, and Infectious diseases. Her hobbies include spending time with her family, shopping, napping, and indulging in a nice dinner with wine.

Dr. Brittany La-Viola, PharmD (2017 -2019)

I can't believe it's been almost two years since I completed residency! After completing residency in June of 2019 I moved back to Maryland and started with the University of Maryland Eastern Shore School of Pharmacy and Health Professions as an assistant professor. I recently made a career change and I am a clinical pharmacist at a small community hospital, TidalHealth Nanticoke, in Seaford, Delaware. In addition to making a career change recently, my boyfriend and I bought a house together in May. We love our new house and are getting settled in. Our fur-babies love it too. We currently have 6 cats and 1 dog! I'm trying to convince him to get more fur-babies!

Dr. Ryan Popp, PharmD (2017 -2019)

Ryan Popp is currently employed as a clinical pharmacy specialist with Harris Health System in Houston, Texas. He practices ambulatory care pharmacy at Aldine Health Center, where he focuses on diabetes management, training pharmacy students and residents, and pursuing research focused on improving diabetes outcomes. Ryan and his wife, Marianna, recently celebrated the birth of their son Gabriel in late 2020, as well as purchasing their first family home. Ryan appreciates his residency training and outstanding FSOP preceptors for providing him the tools and skills he uses every day.

Dr. Abigail Hulsizer, PharmD (2018-2020)

I transitioned into a full-time faculty position at UNTHSC College of Pharmacy with a practice site in Internal Medicine at Medical City Arlington. I directed a course in Critical Care in the Spring of 2021. I also was newly appointed as the Phi Delta Chi Faculty Advisor for the Delta Beta Chapter. I recently received the Summer Haj Legacy Award for PDC, which recognizes alumni. I will be sitting for the BCPS exam this fall.

Oscar recently bought a house and we went to Hawaii for vacation (No engagement announcement lol)

Dr. Raymond Mattes, PharmD (2018 -2020)

Raymond Mattes is a clinical pharmacy specialist at the Frank M. Tejada VA outpatient clinic, San Antonio, Texas. He and Kim Cauthon work together. He still lives in the same place as he did during residency. :0

Residency Preceptors

Dr. Russell T. Attridge, PharmD

Russell says Hello and recently left the FSOP. He is now the Associate Medical Science Liasion with AstraZeneca.

Dr. Renee Bellanger, PharmD

I am glad to be standing and well after over a year of pandemic and sheltering in place and uncertainty of many kinds. Hurrah for science and vaccines!

The past year and a half have full of sudden change in routine and the growth of purpose and spirit. Moving to an online platform for delivering classes and labs has been eye-opening and an exercise in what is most important to convey and require. I had the privilege of conducting virtual rotation experiences for students that found themselves quarantined for various reasons. I have had to find my inner actor and portrayed an array of patients and healthcare providers for lab experiences and TOSCEs. The COVID-19 vaccine events were a study in what can go right, and what can go wrong, with trying to provide emergent healthcare to the masses with limited personnel and resources.

I also had the opportunity to learn how to develop and conduct an online trivia contest for Women's History Month. That was rewarding and fun!

I hope you are thriving and look forward to seeing you at future events and around pharmacies across the state and the U.S.

Be well.

Dr. Rebecca Brady, PharmD

Rebecca is a former residency advisory committee member and a current preceptor to the residency program in her role as Assistant Director of Inpatient Pharmacy Operations, Department of Pharmacotherapy and Pharmacy Services at University Health in San Antonio, Texas. She is currently renovating her backyard into a garden and has one indoor and three outdoor cats.

Dr. Kimberly A.B. Cauthon, PharmD

Kim Cauthon is so proud of all the residents and misses you. She is still practicing at the Frank Tejada VA outpatient clinic two days a week and UIW three days a week. Keep in touch!

Dr. Jason Cota, PharmD

Jason joined Merck in October 2020 as the Regional Medical Scientific Director for Infectious Diseases and Vaccines in South Texas. Since February, he has been volunteering with the Alamo Area Medical Reserve Corps to help with the Mass COVID-19 Vaccination Drive held at the Alamodome. Jason was recently elected the National Hispanic Pharmacists Association Pipeline Subcommittee Chair, which is responsible for developing NHPA's presentation programming for K-12 and undergraduate/pre-pharmacy students and building collaborations with other organizations and institutions to help increase the pipeline of Hispanic/Latinx students in the pharmacy profession. Finally, Jason is currently planning on becoming a Hispanics Inspiring Students' Performance and Achievement (HISPA) Role Model. In this role, he would present to students in predominantly low-income public middle schools in which Hispanics are the majority to model how they can pursue higher education and enter various careers.

Dr. Cheryl Horlen, PharmD

Cheryl is still teaching at FSOP in courses such as PT VIII Endocrine Disorders, Applied Pharmacy Skills I, and Women's Health Issues elective. She is still practicing as a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist at the South Texas VA Anticoagulation Clinic where she manages patients on warfarin, DOACs, and LMWH. Her son Isaac will be in the 7th grade, her daughter Alexandra will be in the 2nd grade, and they are both into Minecraft. Her husband, Jon, just completed his Executive MBA at UTSA. He is the Chief of the Biostatistics Division at UT Health San Antonio. Now that they have their weekends back, they will be taking their first family camping trip this summer!

Dr. Amanda Kitten, PharmD

Amanda is an Assistant Professor in the Department of Pharmacy Practice at the FSOP. Her area of practice is inpatient and outpatient cardiology at University Hospital Critical Care Unit in San Antonio, Texas.

Amanda recently married this June. She has two dogs Zeke and Molly.

Dr. Lila LaGrange, PhD

Lila is the residency teaching certificate co-coordinator. She is a Professor in the Department of Pharmaceutical Sciences and Interim Senior Associate Dean for Academic Affairs. Lila's teaching philosophy centers around the belief that her role as a teacher is to create a student-centered environment that actively involves students in the learning process. She believes in engaging students by building a strong teacher-student relationship and creating an environment where students think critically, work in groups and find individual fulfillment in their progress and achievements. She brings this philosophy and much invaluable experience to the residency program.

Ms. Aubrey Levy

Aubrey is the Secretary to the Department of Pharmacy Practice and to the residency program. She is invaluable to the residency program and of great support to the current residents. She is a kindred spirit to our residency alumni because she also has a love of cats.

Dr. Christina Long, PharmD

Christina is still practicing solid organ transplant at University Health and is excited for the upcoming year with two SOT PGY2 residents. She is even more excited for live classes to resume at FSOP and for her new role as MAA Dual Degree Program Coordinator. Derek is now 18 months old and still as blonde as ever. He did amazingly well on his first flight to New York, loved his first trip to the beach and seeing his grandpa's new restaurant, and was very happy the planes were blue, his favorite color.

Dr. Kathleen Lusk, PharmD

Kathleen was recently selected to serve as the new Vice Chair for the FSOP Pharmacy Practice Department. She is currently navigating all the fun that the position entails. She is still working at the CCU at University Hospital and is really enjoying the crazy world of cardiology.

Her daughter, McKenna, just turned 3 and loves animals running, coloring, Playdoh, and bubbles. Mr. Simon and McKenna are best buddies. McKenna enjoys giving him treats and taking him on walks. Mr. Simon is 9 and is as spunky as ever. Kathleen and Justin continue to have their house renovated, Kathleen doesn't think it will ever be finished.

Justin and Kathleen will be in San Antonio for at least another year or 2 (hopefully longer). They are waiting to see what the Air Force has in store for them.

Dr. Amy Witte, PharmD

Amy continues to work at UIW-FSOP as a Professor. Her practice site changed to South Bexar County VA Clinic, which is closer to her house. Her children, Kendall is 10 and Kase is 9. Also pictured below is their family dog, Lila.

Dr. Elizabeth Urteaga, PharmD

Elizabeth says hello and is a Clinical Pharmacy Specialist at the Shavano Park VA outpatient clinic in San Antonio, Texas.

Outgoing Residents

Dr. Taylor Benavides, PharmD (2019-2021)

Hello, everyone! I am Taylor Benavides, a PGY-2 in UIW FSOP's pharmacotherapy residency program! I received my Doctor of Pharmacy degree from Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center Jerry H. Hodge School of Pharmacy in 2019. My areas of interests include internal medicine and infectious diseases. Upon completion of the residency in June, I will be joining the faculty at The University of North Texas Health Science Center College of Pharmacy! I have a wife, Amelia, a son, Marshall (4), and a daughter, Eloise (1)!

Dr. Jennifer Rivas, PharmD (2019-2021)

I am originally from San Antonio, Texas. I graduated from Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Pharmacy in 2019. Upon completion of the UIW residency in June, I am excited to be staying in San Antonio to help serve patients at the outpatient cardiology clinic located in Robert B. Green clinic. My fiancé and I enjoy bike riding, playing chess, and spoiling our families' puppies.

Current Residents

Dr. Haley Tierce, PharmD (2020-2022)

I am one of the current PGY-1 residents (soon to be PGY-2 residents). I can't believe that I am almost done with my PGY-1 year. Throughout this year, I have learned so much professionally and personally. I have completed my first CE presentation and I am currently working on my major research project. In other news, I have adopted my first cat, Benny! He loves naps and playing with any kind of string but can be a picky eater. Time flies when you are having fun!

Dr. Blake Wassom, PharmD (2020-2022)

I am currently finishing up my first year of residency here at UIW. This year has brought many exciting opportunities for learning and growth. Through my experiences, I have developed a deeper interest in cardiology and a greater desire to advance the profession of pharmacy through teaching, writing, and presenting. I am fortunate to be surrounded by so many friendly and capable co-residents and preceptors. I became a father of two this year as well with the birth of my daughter, Liliana, in November. She and her brother Oliver are a joy to come home to at the end of each day.

New Incoming Residents

Dr. Harneal Diocee, PharmD (2021-2023)

I am the new PGY-1 Resident here at Feik and I'm really looking forward to the next couple of years! Some of my clinical interests involve cardiology and infectious disease. Even just over this first week, everyone has been incredibly welcoming and friendly. In my free time, I enjoy golfing and photography. I am excited to see what the next two years have in store!

Dr. Sarah Edwards, PharmD (2021-2023)

I am a 2021 graduate from the University of North Texas Health Science Center College of Pharmacy. I found UIW through mutual colleagues and fell in love with the research & academia aspects of the program. I feel so honored to have the opportunity to meet and work with outstanding preceptors and co-residents these next couple of years! I am fully determined to be a clinical pharmacist who can balance practice with lifelong learning. My current clinical interests are in critical care and ambulatory care; my short-term goal is to officially decide if I want to dwell in the inpatient or outpatient setting! As for family, I have my significant other Alex and two adorable albino hedgehogs named Peter Parker and Peter Quill. We are all very excited to be here in San Antonio!

She has precepted FSOP Residents since 2018. She has two little girls starting kindergarten and first grade this fall!

Dr. Heather Blacksmith, PharmD
Preceptor of the Year 2020

Thank you so much for the honor of being named a Preceptor of the Year for 2020! It was a unique and difficult year, as well as my first opportunity to precept a rotation 100% virtually. The UIW Pharmacotherapy Residents were a dream to work with, and I appreciate their flexibility, adaptability, and creativity as we cultivated unfamiliar terrain. I've always had a passion for teaching and mentoring that blossomed from my own experiences as a pharmacy student and resident. A hallmark of my rotation is sharing my appreciation for geriatrics and collaborating to develop the competencies necessary to optimize complex medication regimens. I feel strongly that these skills benefit trainees no matter their future endeavors. I'm always humbled and elated to discover the residents enjoy the learning experience as much as I do.

A message from the Dean

Graduates of the FSOP Residency Program,

We are very proud of you for working in your chosen field. I hope that you are finding your career to be exciting, and your training making it a smooth transition. Even though you are not graduates of the PharmD program and some of you are, you are still alumni of the Feik School of Pharmacy. We want to hear from you and to see you. It is so rewarding for us to brag about your accomplishments. We hope that you will take the opportunity to give back by precepting our students and residents.

I am proud to announce that the Class of 2020 had a 96.1% pass rate on the NAPLEX. We tied for the highest passing rate in Texas and were 11th in the country. We have a full class to start in the fall, with 57% of the students being Hispanic. This makes us the most diverse school in Texas. We lost some great people this year, but we are trying to replace the unreplaceable.

San Antonio and UIW are doing very well in the low infection rates of COVID, and we have over 90% of the students, faculty and staff vaccinated. This will allow us to start school with no masks or social distancing. Hopefully, this is the beginning of the normal.

Please keep in touch.

Praised be the Incarnate Word,
Dr. David Maize
