TRiO Student Support Services Celebrates Our First-Generation Students!

FIRST GENERATION DAY NOV. 8

"WHAT DOES IT MEAN TO YOU AND YOUR FAMILY TO BE FIRST-GENERATION IN COLLEGE?"

For me it means I have an opportunity. An opportunity to become someone in this world. It gives my family hope and it motivates my family's younger generation to work hard and keep going.

"There is no elevator to success, you have to take the stairs"

-Mariana Martinez

To be a first generation in my family is being an example to my younger cousins that it is possible despite everyday challenges and no matter what they are, put your dreams first.

"Turn your dreams into goals and achieve them"

-Amanda Medellin

Being a first-generation college student means the world to my parents and I because it is an accomplishment for our family. My parents immigrated to this country to give my brother and I a better life and education, something they did not have and seeing that one of their children graduated from high school and is going to college is an immense feeling of joy that all their hard work and sacrifice was all worth it.

"Never be afraid to ask questions"

-Laura Gonzalez
